Secret Service Preparing for Ike's Ohio Visit

Many Angles Watched As Cleveland Gets Ready for President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's trip to Cleveland Tuesday will be, in the words of a White House spokesman, a "quick one."

Nevertheless, that brief stay means elaborate precautions by the omnipresent Secret Service men guarding his life.

The occasion, of course, will be the President's third speech to the nation on the status of our security, this one dealing with international cooperation. Television time is 9 p.m. EST.

Eisenhower himself won't get there until a few hours before that talk. But advance agents for the Secret Service are in Cleveland right now. This is what they are doing:

At Cleveland Hopkins Airport, where the presidential plane, Columbine III, will touch down, the entire protection setup is being gone over carefully.

THE CLEVELAND streets where his car will travel, and the hotel suite where he will stay, are getting similar treatment. Particular attention is paid to vantage points where a would-be assassin might station himself.

At the hotel, where the President is expected to have a late lunch in private before the speech at Cleveland's Public Auditorium, a security check is being run on elevator operators or waiters who may serve him.

With the advance preparations completed, the Secret Service men (the number involved is kept hush-hush) then station themselves at the airport and other spots to await the President.

Then in Washington, the presidential plane, carrying a limited number of Secret Service men and piloted by Maj. William Draper, the President's personal pilot, takes off.

This plane is followed soon by a commercial airliner carrying reporters and more Secret Service men.

Then follows the routine pattern of landing and the drive to the hotel, with a Secret Service man at the wheel of Eisenhower's car.

Close behind this car will be another car of the Secret Service. This auto has a machinegun in it.

Even while at the hotel, the Secret Service frequently stations a local police officer in any window that happens to overlook the presidential suite.

MOREOVER, if any employee of the hotel help prepare the President's meal, a Secret Service man is stationed in the kitchen.

However, this man does not act as a taster, in the fashion of the old royal families. His job is to watch over the preparation of food.

Then comes the quick trip to the auditorium, where the President will be introduced by Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Soon after the speech, the President will fly back to Washington, still under the close watch of the Secret Service.

Selection of Hoffa Jury Goes Slowly

NEW YORK (AP)—All of the first 31 prospective jurors for the wiretap conspiracy trial of James R. Hoffa and two others have been rejected, mainly because of apparent prejudice against the top Teamster official.

At the opening of the Federal Court trial Friday, 43 talesmen were called from a panel of 125.

Of the 31 talesmen questioned, 17 were excused after saying they had formed strong opinions in the case, 13 were eliminated through peremptory challenges by defense or prosecution, and one was turned down because he said he was a friend of the prosecutor.

Mobster Gains Freedom

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Vincent Squillante, self-styled godson of murdered mobster Albert Anastasia and reputed garbage collection kinsman, is free in $30,000 bail today on charges growing out of a $3,900 contract shakedown case.

Sputnik I Carrier Seen Near Death

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sputnik I's carrier rocket, which has been whirling around the earth since Oct. 4, may plunge back into the atmosphere at any time.

British scientists said this Friday night, U. S. experts had estimated earlier the rocket would fall about Dec. 11. The main satellite is expected to stay aloft several weeks longer.

There is no way to determine where the rocket will drop, but scientists say parts of the tough metal might survive the flaming descent and hit the earth.

Dr. John S. Rhinehart, assistant director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said that if the rocket falls on the United States, the laws of probability indicate it would be likely to fall in the northern part of the nation because its path crosses that area more than the southern part.

But, he added, as the rocket drops it might "skitter off in any direction."

BRITAIN'S Jodrell Bank radio telescope station notified the Smithsonian Observatory that the rocket section might make its death plunge within 24 hours.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, the U. S. Observatory's associate director, said shortly afterward:

"Until we have further evidence and information we can say no more. We are awaiting more information with interest."

"We have not as yet alerted moonwatch teams for a special death watch."

The rocket carried the first Russian satellite into space seven weeks ago. The second Soviet satellite, which carried a dog as a passenger, was put in orbit Nov. 3. There have been no definite predictions yet as to when Sputnik II might fall.

As the rocket drops into the atmosphere, friction is expected to cause it to burn like a meteor.

Space experts say the descent could provide information about the density of the atmosphere at high altitudes.

Moscow indicated Friday the rocket had made more than 730 trips around the earth, traveling at about 18,000 miles an hour.

There were these other developments Friday:

1. A Russian diplomat in London, O. K. Sapounov, said Soviet scientists are working on a space rocket powered by photons, units of light. Photons travel at 186,000 miles a second, the speed of light. Accepted theories hold that no body or mass can surpass this speed.

2. A report in New York said Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, a leading atomic scientist, will be invited back to government work in view of accelerated emphasis on satellites and missiles.

Oppenheimer formerly was a consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission. In 1954 he was denied access to government secrets on security grounds. He is now with the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J.

Farm Bureau Meet Awaited

Ohioans Set To Aid Agricultural Problems

COLUMBUS (AP)—The 39th annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation opens here Monday as more than 3,500 Ohio farmers tackle agricultural problems.

"It is probable that Ohioans will seek a new look to the farm program next year," D. R. Stanfield, Bureau vice president said. "Farmers have been exploring the controversial farm program all year in Ohio and their views will be aired."

Ohio's 23 representatives and two senators have been invited to the three-day meeting.

"It is the first time Ohio's legislators have come to visit as a group with farmers," H. D. Heckathorn, Bureau president, said.

Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) will speak at general sessions Tuesday evening. The two senators will discuss farm problems with farmers from 86 of Ohio's 88 counties.

One of the major jobs of the convention will be writing the 1958 platform for the 52,000 farm family organization.

STANFIELD indicated that a possible new farm program from Ohio could be the model for a workable national program.

Farmers are expected to discuss among themselves and with legislators such questions as the effect of the St. Lawrence Seaway, better rural mail delivery, federal marketing orders, foreign trade regarding agricultural commodities, elimination of government support program, revised soil bank and special assistance to low-income farmers.

'Indifferent' Pupil Dropouts Given OEA Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Assn. has decided it is in favor of making schooling compulsory until age 18.

But the association's 800 delegates in convention voted Friday night to recommend dropping pupils older than 16 who are "indifferent" to school.

The organization will ask the State Board of Education to consider adoption of regulations to permit "excusing" pupils over 16 for indifference.

The recommendation also called for possible legislative action to get the "excuse" provision written into law.

For almost an hour, the delegates debated a proposal by Harold Shulrow, Columbus high school teacher, to seek reduction in the compulsory attendance age from 18 to 16. The proposal finally was rejected.

Also considered was action to make association membership contingent on holding at least a provisional teaching certificate or university degree.

Privilege of 'Right to Know' Still Curbed by Government

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—but dates back to 1789 when George Washington was president and Congress passed the house-keeping act—"still the law of the land."

"It is obvious," said Dwight, "that only an aroused American public can break through the curtain of secrecy this ancient law has permitted to grow into an ominous barrier against the people's right to know what their government is doing."

The ANPA president said it takes "a keen, experienced reporter to get past the parlor and the friendly public relations representative." Communicating needed facts to the American people, can be done "only by men and women of intellectual capacity and with a solid educational training in liberal arts and the sciences."

Dwight also noted what he termed "an increasing tendency on the part of government to prohibit, restrict and regulate advertising."

Lima Courtroom 'Shooting' Said Part of Trial Strategy

LIMA (AP)—Defense attorney Ernest Navarre said today the spectacular courtroom "shooting" of his assistant was "not just a theatrical stunt. It will have a bearing on our entire defense."

Navarre, chief counsel for Ralph Forsythe, 42-year-old defendant in the "missing body murder case," pulled out a pistol during Friday's trial session and fired point blank at attorney Joseph DaPore.

DaPore, one of Forsythe's three attorneys, slumped over in his seat as if dead. But he wasn't. Navarre had fired a blank.

DaPore had been playing the part of Charles Conner, Lima paint company foreman who allegedly was shot dead on his 37th birthday in the kitchen of Forsythe's home here Aug. 10.

Forsythe is on trial for first degree murder though Conner's body has never been found.

Prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers said in opening remarks to the jury Friday that there are three eye-witnesses who saw Forsythe shoot Conner.

THE PROSECUTOR identified

5 Robbers Held After Gun Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five men armed with shotguns and revolvers robbed a grocery of $330 early today and exchanged gunfire with police who pursued them.

Three of the robbers were wounded, none seriously. All five were captured.

Wounded were: Emil Brooks, 27; Louis Wiley, 32; and David John Jenkins, 26. St. Vincent Charity Hospital said condition of all three is "fair."

Also held and unwounded are two men identified as Uary Sells, 25, and Charles Christian, 23.

one witness as Forsythe's wife June. She is not expected to testify for the prosecution because the law does not require a woman to testify against her husband.

One of the other two alleged eye-witnesses, Larue Arrington, took the stand Friday and told of seeing Forsythe shoot Conner from a distance of three feet.

It was in cross-examining Arrington about the shooting that Navarre drew a pistol from under his coat and fired a blank at his assistant.

A newsman later questioned Navarre for the reason behind this bit of courtroom strategy.

"Actually it was done in preparation for our defense," Navarre replied. "I'm not at liberty now to disclose the reason behind it because it would give away our tactics. But it was done for definite purpose which will unfold as our defense unfolds."

Arrington, in his testimony, said he "turned and ran" immediately after the shot and ostensibly was not around to determine if Conner was dead.

The witness said the dispute leading up to the shooting was over a missing gun.

He said Forsythe got no response when he demanded of Conner three times: "Where's my gun?"

The defendant then shouted: "Damn it, I mean it!" and fired with a "big black gun," Arrington related.

Prosecutor Bowers told the jury that Forsythe dumped Conner's body into a station wagon and drove to Cadiz. He said the body disappeared in that area and the state has yet to locate it.

Cadiz is near the Ohio River, on the other side of the state from Lima.

Prince Is Involved In Schoolboy Fuss

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles got into a schoolboy tussle with a larger boy recently and they both ended up tumbling fully clothed into a tub of water.

The 30-minute battle was reported today by Cecil Cox, a barber who trims the hair of Charles and his schoolmates at Cheam School, 45 miles from London.

Cox said 9-year-old Charles is "as strong as a young ox, and game, too."

The young prince is the first heir to the throne to receive his education at a boarding school along with the sons of commoners.

Current Target Dates Labeled As Inadequate

Air Force Scientist Claims Breakthrough Into Outer Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was under new pressure today to speed up its missile program as a powerful Senate subcommittee labeled current target dates "far too modest" and inadequate.

Speaking for the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), said his group will seek "methods of stepping up the target dates of achievement" at hearings starting Monday.

Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, spoke to reporters after a committee meeting Friday.

Agreeing with Johnson, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he is concerned about the safety of the United States unless it matches Russian developments in the missile field. Bridges nodded in agreement as Johnson said:

"First, we are trying to determine the state of the nation's defenses.

"Second, we are seeking methods of stepping up the target dates of achievement in the missile program."

THE NEW YORK Herald Tribune said today a top-secret administration committee has completed a report which reportedly warns that the U. S. must speed its defense efforts or face possible neutralization of its Strategic Air Command.

The neutralization, according to the newspaper's Washington dispatch, would come through Soviet missiles by 1960.

The Herald Tribune said the "tightly-held survey" was prepared for the Office of Defense Mobilization for the attention of President Eisenhower and the National Security Council.

The report is said to point out that Russia is devoting at least three times more of its gross national product to military purposes than the United States and to imply that the Soviet Union will have operational intercontinental ballistic missiles by 1960.

Reliable informants, according to the Herald Tribune, say the report proposes that the U. S. step up its military spending by several billion dollars a year.

The New York Times said the report urges the administration to build a vast network of fallout shelters for the defense of the nation in case of an atomic war.

Meanwhile, man's first breakthrough into outer space was claimed by a 30-year-old civilian scientist of the Air Force.

Physicist Maurice Dubin said two tiny fragments of aluminum had been blasted beyond the pull of the earth's gravity. They may now be hitting other planets, or be drawn towards a flaming death in the sun, he said.

THE METALLIC chunks were exploded above the New Mexico desert last Oct. 16. Dubin said an Aerobee rocket had been used to hurl three explosive shells to an altitude of 54 miles.

The explosives, known as "shaped charges," funneled the blast so that aluminum fragments shot out at a velocity of 40,000 miles per hour, about 11 miles a second. This is well above the 25,000 m.p.h. (7 miles per second) velocity needed to escape the earth's gravity.

Dubin is on the staff of the Air Force Cambridge Research Center here in suburban Boston. He said announcement of the breakthrough had been delayed until evidence of special tracking cameras had been analyzed. These, he said, confirmed that at least two fragments of unknown size but probably less than an ounce each had hurtled upwards into space.

Judge Lamb Takes Oath

To Fill Unexpired Term, Replaces Shea

Judge Sterling M. Lamb was sworn in at 10:25 a. m. today as judge of the Circleville Municipal Court. Common Pleas Judge William Ammer pronounced the oath.

Judge Lamb received his commission by mail today from the office of the secretary of state. He was elected to the post in the November 5 election. He will serve an unexpired term ending Dec. 31, 1959.

Judge Lamb relieves Judge Walter Shea, Chillicothe, who has been sitting here since Judge Lamb resigned to run for the Muny Court post. Judge Lamb resigned and ran for reelection so that he could take advantage of a salary boost OK'd by City Council.

Immediately after being sworn in, Judge Lamb began hearing cases.

California's Timber Fire Control Seen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A wind-spurred brush and timber fire that already has cracked and burned through 25,000 acres in the San Gabriel Mountains blazed out of control for the third day today.

The U. S. Forest Service estimated damage so far as $25 million.

Fanned by winds of hurricane force, the blaze broke out Thursday near deer Flat Camp, some 14 miles above the suburban communities of Monrovia and Azusa.

In three hours, the fire raged eight miles down the thick wooded and brush covered slopes, and in six hours it had advanced 12 miles on a four-mile front.

Winds slackened, however, and a Forest Service spokesman said that control is expected tonight.

Meanwhile, some 1,400 men, including Indian "hot shots," battled the blaze along a 50-mile perimeter. The specially trained Indian firefighters were brought in from Winslow, Ariz.

No homes were threatened, but fire trucks and crews were strung out along the foothills to protect communities in case a sudden wind change should whip the flames in their direction.

No one was reported injured, and only an unoccupied cabin and two sheds were burned.

Segregationist Starts Term in Federal Prison

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Segregationist John Kasper has begun serving a one-year sentence for contempt of court in the federal prison here Friday.

The New Jersey agitator was convicted of interfering last year with federal court orders to integrate the high school at Clinton, Tenn.

Wisconsin Grave-Openings Scheduled in Probe of Ghoul

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP) — Authorities plan to open as many as four graves Monday to check the ghoul story of Edward Gein, who admits slaying two women and pillaging at least nine graves.

Dist. Atty. Earl Killee, met Friday night in Plainfield with three other officials to discuss opening graves in Plainfield Cemetery, one of two burial grounds Gein said he looted of female remains.

Meanwhile Gein sits in the Wausau County Jail at Wautoma, awaiting a 30-day mental test.

Circuit Judge Herbert A. Bunde

Friday ordered Gein sent to the Central State Hospital for the Criminally Insane to determine whether Gein is competent to stand trial for murder.

The hospital staff psychiatrists also will seek to determine whether Gein was sane Nov. 16, the date of the mutilation slaying of Mrs. Bernice Worden. The 58-year-old Plainfield widow was one of the two women the 51-year-old bachelor said he killed because they resembled his late mother.

KILEEN SAID Gein would remain in the county jail here three or four more days because authorities of other counties wish to question the man about missing persons.

The only disappearance connected to Gein is that of Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54-year-old Bancroft tavern operator, who vanished Dec. 8, 1954. He admitted killing her.

Gein was arrested a week ago tonight after Mrs. Worden's decapitated and eviscerated body was found hanging by the heels in a shed at the rear of Gein's secluded farm house, seven miles from Plainfield.

The frail, 140-pound handman admitted slaying her earlier that day and said he slaughtered Mrs. Hogan in a similar fashion.

Ten skulls, one of them tentatively identified as Mrs. Hogan's, were found in the filthy, cluttered rooms Gein occupied on the first floor of the sagging, weathered farm house.

Cleric Says Sputnik Nets Values Check

NEW YORK (AP) — A prominent U. S. churchman says the Sputnik accident "crisis in which we find ourselves" likely will induce Americans "to question our scale of values."

Dr. Truman B. Douglass said this should stimulate more profound religious attitudes.

Dr. Douglass, a member of the general board of the National Council of Churches, said:

"We have been content with superficial answers rather than adequate ones, culturally and in religion. But now, we are likely to see, in response to the crisis in which we find ourselves, a far more genuine religious revival than the one reflected in church statistics."

Privilege of 'Right to Know' Still Curbed by Government

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — "The precious privilege of the right to know belongs to all the people," the president of the American Newspaper Publishers said today.

"Invasions against this right of the American people to know are repeatedly being made at all levels of government in the nation," said the ANPA official, William Dwight of Holyoke, Mass.

Dwight, publisher of the Holyoke Transcript-Telegram, prepared his remarks for delivery at dedication of a new journalism building on the University of Maryland campus.

As an example of such invasions, Dwight cited Secretary of State Dulles' "refusal to let American newspaper people without restriction go into Red China, to gather the facts of affairs there and report them to the American people."

He said the desire of public officials for secrecy is nothing new, one witness as Forsythe's wife June. She is not expected to testify for the prosecution because the law does not require a woman to testify against her husband.

One of the other two alleged eye-witnesses, Larue Arrington, took the stand Friday and told of seeing Forsythe shoot Conner from a distance of three feet.

It was in cross-examining Arrington about the shooting that Navarre drew a pistol from under his coat and fired a blank at his assistant.

A newsman later questioned Navarre for the reason behind this bit of courtroom strategy.

"Actually it was done in preparation for our defense," Navarre replied. "I'm not at liberty now to disclose the reason behind it because it would give away our tactics. But it was done for definite purpose which will unfold as our defense unfolds."

Arrington, in his testimony, said he "turned and ran" immediately after the shot and ostensibly was not around to determine if Conner was dead.

The witness said the dispute leading up to the shooting was over a missing gun.

He said Forsythe got no response when he demanded of Conner three times: "Where's my gun?"

The defendant then shouted: "Dama it, I mean it!" and fired with a "big black gun," Arrington related.

Prosecutor Bowers told the jury that Forsythe dumped Conner's body into a station wagon and drove to Cadiz. He said the body disappeared in that area and the state has yet to locate it.

Cadiz is near the Ohio River, on the other side of the state from Lima.

Prince Is Involved In Schoolboy Fuss

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles got into a schoolboy tussle with a larger boy recently and they both ended up tumbling fully clothed into a tub of water.

The 30-minute battle was reported today by Cecil Cox, a barber who trims the hair of Charles and his schoolmates at Cheam School, 45 miles from London.

Cox said 9-year-old Charles is "as strong as a young ox, and game, too."

The young prince is the first heir to the throne to receive his education at a boarding school along with the sons of commoners.

Current Target Dates Labeled As Inadequate

Air Force Scientist Claims Breakthrough Into Outer Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration was under new pressure today to speed up its missiles program as a powerful Senate subcommittee labeled current target dates "far too modest" and inadequate.

Speaking for the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), said his group will seek "methods of stepping up the target dates of achievement" at hearings starting Monday.

Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, spoke to reporters after a committee meeting Friday.

Agreeing with Johnson, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he is concerned about the safety of the United States unless it matches Russian developments in the missile field. Bridges nodded in agreement as Johnson said:

"First, we are trying to determine the state of the nation's defenses."

"Second, we are seeking methods of stepping up the target dates of achievement in the missile program."

THE NEW YORK Herald Tribune said today a top-secret administration committee has completed a report which reportedly warns that the U. S. must speed its defense efforts or face possible neutralization of its Strategic Air Command.

The neutralization, according to the newspaper's Washington dispatch, would come through Soviet missiles by 1960.

The Herald Tribune said the "tightly-held survey" was prepared for the Office of Defense Mobilization for the attention of President Eisenhower and the National Security Council.

The report is said to point out that Russia is devoting at least three times more of its gross national product to military purposes than the United States and to imply that the Soviet Union will have operational intercontinental ballistic missiles by 1960.

Reliable informants, according to the Herald Tribune, say the report proposes that the U. S. step up its military spending by several billion dollars a year.

The New York Times said the report urges the administration to build a vast network of fallout shelters for the defense of the nation in case of an atomic war.

Meanwhile, man's first breakthrough into outer space was claimed by a 30-year-old civilian scientist of the Air Force.

Physicist Maurice Dubin said two tiny fragments of aluminum had been blasted beyond the pull of the earth's gravity. They may now be hitting other planets, or be drawn towards a flaming death in the sun, he said.

THE METALLIC chunks were exploded above the New Mexico desert last Oct. 16. Dubin said an Aerobee rocket had been used to hurl three explosive shells to an altitude of 54 miles.

The explosives, known as "shaped charges," funneled the blast so that aluminum fragments shot out at a velocity of 40,000 miles per hour, about 11 miles a second. This is well above the 25,000 m.p.h. (7 miles per second) velocity needed to escape the earth's gravity.

Dubin is on the staff of the Air Force Cambridge Research Center here in suburban Boston. He said announcement of the breakthrough had been delayed until evidence of special tracking cameras had been analyzed. These, he said, confirmed that at least two fragments of unknown size but probably less than an ounce each had hurtled upwards into space.

Segregationist Starts Term in Federal Prison

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Segregationist John Kasper has begun serving a one-year sentence for contempt of court in the federal prison here Friday.

The New Jersey agitator was convicted of interfering last year with federal court orders to integrate the high school at Clinton, Tenn.

Monroe Gives Carroll Five Shock, 63-64

The Monroe Indians battled a surprised Carroll five, but dropped a narrow 64 to 63 loss in a non-league contest on the Carroll hardwood. For the third straight game Carroll had a different big man as Simiele led his squad with 28 points.

Carroll led 17 to 15 at the end of the first quarter. In the second period Monroe took a two point lead at halftime 35 to 33. In his very even match both teams ended the third quarter with a tie ball game, 50 to 50.

This would have been a great victory for Monroe, for Carroll defeated the leading Pickaway County team, Scioto, 71 to 59, last Tuesday. The Indians met a tough Carroll five with good teamwork as four of its five men landed scores in the double figure column. Full led with 13, followed closely by Bigman, 14, Reitterman, 12, and Blair, 10.

The reserve game was a riot as Carroll posted an almost unbelievable score in defeating Monroe 80 to 14. This is one of the highest scores ever recorded in Fairfield County by a reserve team.

Colts, 49ers Battle To Stay In Grid Race

Cleveland Gets 4-Point Edge To Defeat Rams; Giants also Favored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1957 Baltimore Colts have already won as many games as any Baltimore team ever did in the National Football League. Sunday they go for No. 6 against the San Francisco 49ers in a Western Conference game that will virtually eliminate the loser from the title race.

And the winner could move into sole possession of first place in the division if the Detroit Lions should lose to the Chicago Bears. The 49ers, Colts and Lions are tied for the Western lead with 5-3 records. Each has three games to play after today, but the schedule definitely favors the Lions.

In other action Sunday, Green Bay is at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at Cleveland, New York at the Chicago Cards and Washington at Philadelphia.

The Colts are a touchdown favorite over the 49ers at Baltimore and the Lions rate the same edge over the visiting Bears, the Western Division's fifth place team with a 3-5 mark.

Pittsburgh is favored by 3; Cleveland by 4; New York by 6; and Washington by 2.

Cleveland, boasting the league's leading rusher in Jimmy Brown and the top passer in Tommy O'Connell, can nail down the Eastern Conference championship by winning all its remaining games. The Browns have a 6-1 mark while the runner-up Giants are 6-2. With the other Eastern clubs just about out of the running, the Cleveland-New York battle at New York Dec. 15 should decide the division king.

League Retires Umpire Goetz, 62

CINCINNATI (U)—The National League has retired Larry Goetz of Cincinnati as an umpire.

The colorful, 62-year-old umpire was opposed to the move. He was on leave of absence last season because of illness.

League president Warren Giles said Friday he took the action reluctantly and said Goetz "has made a great contribution to the game."

He started umpiring back in 1920 and said: "I'll never forget it. Happy Chandler (governor of Kentucky) and I worked together in the old Bluegrass League."

"Happy got fired. Every time we meet, he kids me. 'You made good,' he will say, 'I didn't.'"

Ohio River 'Loaded' With Many Game Fish

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (U)—The State Conservation Department's fish chief reported today that "a virtually untapped tremendous fish population" exists in the Ohio River bordering West Virginia.

Dr. Edward Kinney reported that meetings on the Ohio River near new Martinsville, Wetzel County, hauled to the surface many game fish species. Kinney said the fish were tagged and returned to the river. He said 600 were spotted bass and 145 were small mouth bass.

Even Idleness Helps Celtics To Show Gain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even when they're idle, Boston's Celtics gain ground in the National Basketball Assn.

The classy Celts had a seven-game edge in the Eastern Division today after Syracuse missed a chance to close ground by losing 102-98 to Cincinnati Friday night in the only game scheduled. The defeat dropped the Nationals into a three-way tie for second place with Philadelphia and New York.

Cincinnati, winning six of 11, now is within a half game of St. Louis, the Western Division pacesetter.

Clyde Lovelette collected 21 of his 30 points in the second half for the Royals, cracking a 97-all tie with a long push shot with a minute to play. Dave Piontek's free throw, and a pair of foul shots by Dick Duckett put it away.

Duckett was shooting for Jim Paxson, who suffered a leg injury and couldn't stand up to shoot the free throws. Coach Paul Seymour of the Nats used his privilege of picking a Royals' sub shooter.

Maurice Stokes scored 20 for the Royals, who out-hit the Nats 40-35 from the field. Lovelette and Stokes had 22 field goals between them.

Dolph Schayes led Syracuse scoring with 24 points.

Monroe Gives Carroll Five Shock, 63-64

The Monroe Indians battled a surprised Carroll five, but dropped a narrow 64 to 63 loss in a non-league contest on the Carroll hardwood. For the third straight game Carroll had a different hero as Simiele led his squad with 28 points.

Carroll led 17 to 15 at the end of the first quarter. In the second period Monroe took a two point lead at halftime 35 to 33. In his very even match both teams ended the third quarter with a tie ball game, 50 to 50.

This would have been a great victory for Monroe, for Carroll defeated the leading Pickaway County team, Scioto, 71 to 59, last Tuesday. The Indians met a tough Carroll five with good teamwork as four of its five men landed scores in the double figure column. Fullin led with 15, followed closely by Bigman, 14, Reiterman, 12, and Blair, 10.

The reserve game was a riot as Carroll posted an almost unbelievable score in defeating Monroe 80 to 14. This is one of the highest scores ever recorded in Fairfield County by a reserve team.

League Retires Umpire Goetz, 62

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League has retired Larry Goetz of Cincinnati as an umpire.
The colorful, 62-year-old umpire was opposed to the move. He was on leave of absence last season because of illness.

League president Warren Giles said Friday he took the action regretfully and said Goetz "has made a great contribution to the game."

He started umpiring back in 1920 and said: "I'll never forget it. Happy Chandler (governor of Kentucky) and I worked together in the old Bluegrass League."

"Happy got fired. Every time we meet, he kids me, 'You made good,' he will say, 'I didn't.'"

Ohio River 'Loaded' With Many Game Fish

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The State Conservation Department's fish chief reported today that "a virtually untapped tremendous fish population" exists in the Ohio River bordering West Virginia.

Dr. Edward Kinney reported that meetings on the Ohio River near new Martinsville, Wetzel County, hauled to the surface many game fish species. Kinney said the fish were tagged and returned to the river. He said 600 were spotted bass and 145 were small mouth bass.

Colts, 49ers Battle To Stay In Grid Race

Cleveland Gets 4-Point Edge To Defeat Rams; Giants also Favored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The 1957 Baltimore Colts have already won as many games as any Baltimore team ever did in the National Football League.

Sunday they go for No. 6 against the San Francisco 49ers in a Western Conference game that will virtually eliminate the loser from the title race.

And the winner could move into sole possession of first place in the division if the Detroit Lions should lose to the Chicago Bears.

The 49ers, Colts and Lions are tied for the Western lead with 5-3 records. Each has three games to play after today, but the schedule definitely favors the Lions.

In other action Sunday, Green Bay is at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at Cleveland, New York at the Chicago Cards and Washington at Philadelphia.

The Colts are a touchdown favorite over the 49ers at Baltimore and the Lions rate the same edge over the visiting Bears, the Western Division's fifth place team with a 3-5 mark.

Pittsburgh is favored by 3; Cleveland by 4; New York by 6; and Washington by 2.

Cleveland, boasting the league's leading rusher in Jimmy Brown and the top passer in Tommy O'Connell, can nail down the Eastern Conference championship by winning all its remaining games. The Browns have a 6-1 mark while the runner-up Giants are 6-2. With the other Eastern clubs just about out of the running, the Cleveland-New York battle at New York Dec. 15 should decide the division king.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Dost think this turkey will please the Pilgrim Fathers?

Those cranberries have been strung with careful fingers, the bird itself has been roasted to just the proper degree of succulent brownness, and that bit of wheat, lying on the table, symbolizes the rich bounty of this year's harvest.

If our Puritan maid, Priscilla, looks a bit skeptical, it is only because she is wondering if tom turkey will be big enough to satisfy all the hungry guests.

They will be coming with vigorous appetites, whetted by the walk through snow covered fields from Church, where they have given thanks for their good fortune.

And on all Thanksgivings since that first one, thankful people have knelt in prayer. Thanksgiving is our own American holiday, unlike any other. It is deeply religious in nature. We can only observe it if, like the Pilgrims, we go to church to give our thanks. And never have a people had cause to be so thankful for so much.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Taking part in the musicale, in addition to the choir and organ, will be the Junior Choir under direction of Mrs. Fred Tammany; and Miss Joyce Troutman, who will present two selections for flute.

The committee for a reception in the social rooms of the church includes: Mrs. Frank Bennet, Mrs. Harry Heffner, Mrs. B. H. T. Becker, Mrs. Adrian Yates, Mrs. A. M. Newton, Mrs. Howard Orr, Mrs. Leland Pontius.

The Presbytery of Columbus, consisting of the pastor and one Elder from each of the fifty-three churches, convenes in regular session at the Central Presbyterian Church, Columbus. The Rev. Donald Mitchell will represent the Circleville Church. Time: 4:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Christian Union

This Sunday, the Church of Christ in Christian Union on East Ohio St. is again scheduled to have as the guest speaker in the 10:30 a. m. worship hour, the Rev. Ray Smith of Pennsylvania. The Rev. Smith has been the speaker in a series of revival services which previously had been announced to be in progress from Nov. 3 to 17. However, these meetings were continued each night throughout this past week as it seemed to be the will of God.

Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a. m., with the adults meeting in the main sanctuary under the direction of the superintendent, William Smith. The services for children will be in the basement auditorium with Sunday School at 9:30 a. m., followed by Junior Church at the 10:30 hour.

The Sunday evening services will begin with the Youth Service at 6:30 p. m. Patty Moats will be giving a special number in song and the speaker will be Fernando Mullet, of Guatemala, who is presently a student at the Circleville Bible College. The evening evangelistic service at 7:30 p. m. is now scheduled as the closing night of the revival campaign. All are invited to come and hear a message inspired of God.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Don't think this turkey will please the Pilgrim Fathers?

Those cranberries have been strung with careful fingers, the bird itself has been roasted to just the proper degree of succulent brownness, and that bit of wheat, lying on the table, symbolizes the rich bounty of this year's harvest.

If our Puritan maid, Priscilla, looks a bit skeptical, it is only because she is wondering if tom turkey will be big enough to satisfy all the hungry guests.

They will be coming with vigorous appetites, whetted by the walk through snow covered fields from Church, where they have given thanks for their good fortune.

And on all Thanksgivings since that first one, thankful people have knelt in prayer. Thanksgiving is our own American holiday, unlike any other. It is deeply religious in nature. We can only observe it if, like the Pilgrims, we go to church to give our thanks. And never have a people had cause to be so thankful for so much.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Determined To Succeed

The unpleasant knowledge that Russia's military potential is greater than had been suspected dominates the agonizing reappraisal of diplomatic and military policies throughout the free world.

Russia's leaders may fear nuclear war, but they long for the results they think it would bring them. Those of the free world have fewer illusions. And although Khrushchev has said that he wants co-existence (Stalin was always saying the same thing for international consumption while saying the opposite in his party writings) he has rejected it every time it was offered. He obviously holds with Lenin, who wrote:

"The existence over any long period of the Soviet Republic side by side with imperialist states is unthinkable. One or the other must triumph in the end. And before that end supervenes, a series of frightful collisions will be inevitable."

If it looks hopeless, the free world nevertheless has no choice but to keep trying to avert catastrophe, meanwhile doing what is necessary to make sure the communists know they cannot have the triumph they predict.

The free world has no choice but to do the difficult, and keep on trying, its determination stiffened by the knowledge that the impossible takes a little longer.

Paperbacks on Campus

Americans are familiar with paperback editions of books from seeing them on drugstore and railroad station racks. Veterans remember the thousands of these books distributed all over the globe during World War II.

Not so generally realized is that the paperback has worked a veritable revolution on the campuses of America—reaching the status of an essential college teaching tool.

This is true not only in English, where many of the masterpieces of literature are available at prices within the student budget, but in the departments of history, mathematics, philosophy and sociology.

They make it easy for a professor to assign outside reading. It isn't necessary for a library to keep a large number of copies of an expensive hardback book on the shelves, and the professor doesn't feel he is creating a strain on the student's purse.

Also, college professors report that college students like to form libraries of their own and this is an inexpensive way to do it.

To many persons paperbacks may summon the thought of lurid covers promising much more passionate material than the contents ever give. But the news from the colleges and universities is that they have become an important aid to the intellectual life of the younger generation.

Princeton Fuss Still Boils

By George Sokolsky

In the famous Princeton controversy, which continues, a principal issue is the age old argument between two metaphysicians, the Rev. Hugh Halton, Dominican, graduate of Harvard and Oxford, and W. T. Stace, Stuart Professor of Philosophy, graduate of Dublin University, and once a police magistrate and mayor of Colombo, Ceylon.

The subject of the controversy is religion versus naturalism — Is the universe and all that is contained therein the creation of God, that is the product of natural law or is it the work of blind forces working out an indefinable destiny? Is it all causal or casual?

This is a very ancient argument and probably will never end. One side takes it on faith; the other battles for evidence which becomes increasingly elusive as we accumulate more data.

As I write this, I have before me two very important and serious works by Prof. W. T. Stace. One, "Religion and the Modern Mind," has had widespread circulation in colleges and therefore a profound effect upon the minds of young people. The other, "Time and Eternity," is undoubtedly the more significant work because it is a valid attempt to reach conclusions concerning religion without limiting the study to Christianity.

Stace understands the religions of the East.

Usually such a debate has little significance in the practical affairs of men. But we are living in an era of dubious morality, in which men and women and young people believe that all things are relative and therefore no absolutes are tenable. Whether it is this concept of life that has produced the juvenile delinquency of the 1950's as it may have abetted the adult delinquency of the 1920-1930's, the fact remains that agnosticism and atheism are being widely adopted in many parts of the world at a period of socially perilous immorality.

Both Stace books were published in 1952. In "Religion and the Modern Mind," Professor Stace says:

"... if the world is not ruled by a designing mind, but only by the blind laws of nature, then... the world would be an indiscriminate mixture of good and bad things. ... Thus if, as a matter of logic, we treat God as an hypothesis, we find that chance is a better hypothesis than God."

In a word, Stace here rejects the causal, that is God. However, in "Time and Eternity," Stace enters upon the search for God. In the very preface, he describes the basic struggle of the human mind for understanding. He says that the struggle between science and religion continues as the search for God continues. Then he says:

"... For religion is the hunger of the soul for the impossible, the unattainable, the inconceivable. This is not something which it merely happens to be, an unfortunate accident or disaster which befalls it in the world. This is its essence, and this is its glory. This is what religion means. ..."

Then he adds: "Religion seeks the light. But it is not a light which can be found at any place or time. It is not somewhere. It is light which is nowhere. It is 'the light which never was on sea or land.' Never was. Never will be, even in the infinite stretches of future time. The light is non-existent, as the poet himself says. Yet it is the great light which lightens the world. And this, too, the poet implies."

Stace reaches the conclusion: "... There is but one religious spirit of man, though we speak of many religions. The different religions have been produced by different environments reacting with the same basic human religious sensitivities. And just as an aesthetically sensitive westerner responds instantly to the appeal of a Chinese painting, so the religiously sensitive westerner responds instantly to the spiritual vision and religious passion of the Upanishads."

The real conflict between Father Halton and Professor Stace is not over man's search for God but God's authority over His own creation, man. In a word, Professor Stace is eclectic and finds much in all religions, particularly Buddhism and Hinduism with which he is familiar by association and study; Father Halton is the defender of Catholic Christianity, a follower of the Nicene and Apostles' Creeds by belief and vocation.

Such a debate is interesting and important in these times and should not have been reduced to the absurdity of social excommunication.

"You'd be surprised how it speeds up their ball handling!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN THE GAY and carefree twenties, a police captain turned up in New York admitted, despite a $5,000-a-year salary, that he had banked something like $100,000 in 24 months. His explanation: his wife rented out the spare room in their little Flatbush nest. Mayor Jimmy Walker is said to have observed, "Either this character is an out-and-out crook—or the rents in this town are too high!"

Neurotic lady signed up for analysis at a stipulated fee of 50 bucks per session. After three sessions, however, she suddenly dropped out of sight. The analyst tracked her down and demanded, "What's happened to you?" "It's your doing entirely," explained the patient. "You told me to steer clear of anybody I found aggravating, and you sure aggravate me!"

"It's the little things that break up marriage," observes Jimmy Starr: "little blondes, little brunettes, little redheads."

Adults Not Only Suicides

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

You may read about a suicide in your newspaper every now and then, but you probably consider it an isolated incident. The fact is that, in the age group between 15 and 44, suicide ranks fifth as the cause of death.

Three times as many American men as women take their own lives. Yet this is not strictly an adult problem. Far from it.

Breaking down the statistic I have cited above, we find that suicide also is the fifth most frequent cause of death in the 15 to 19 age bracket.

Surprised that suicide is also an adolescent problem? Well, then, here is something that may surprise you even more:

In the 10 to 14 age group, from 35 to 60 children commit suicide each year!

Suicide under the age of 10, however, is comparatively rare. Yet even children of this tender age do make threats and do make attempts at taking their lives.

These threats should not be taken too lightly. While they may simply be bids for attention or sympathy, it's good to remember that three-fourths of the adults who kill themselves had previously threatened just that.

Dr. H. Bakwin in a recent issue of the Journal of Pediatrics cites one theory about childhood suicide.

A child who is, or believes he is, unloved, may build up aggression toward his parents. This is likely to result in guilt feelings and the youngster may turn the aggression against himself.

One way to punish himself and his parents, and at the same time gain more love, is to commit suicide. It's a horrible thought, but it happens.

Bakwin warns that any child who is markedly depressed, often insomniac, unstable and displays violent temper outbursts "should be suspect and accorded special attention."

Don't ridicule suicide threats or attempts. Teasing an already miserable child may lead him to another attempt.

One method of handling a potential suicide is to hospitalize him immediately. Not only does this remove him from the situation that is troubling him, but it also shows him that his physical or emotional problems are being taken seriously.

And just as an aesthetically sensitive westerner responds instantly to the appeal of a Chinese painting, so the religiously sensitive westerner responds instantly to the spiritual vision and religious passion of the Upanishads."

The real conflict between Father Halton and Professor Stace is not over man's search for God but God's authority over His own creation, man. In a word, Professor Stace is eclectic and finds much in all religions, particularly Buddhism and Hinduism with which he is familiar by association and study; Father Halton is the defender of Catholic Christianity, a follower of the Nicene and Apostles' Creeds by belief and vocation.

Such a debate is interesting and important in these times and should not have been reduced to the absurdity of social excommunication.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN THE GAY and carefree twenties, a police captain turned up in New York admitted, despite a $5,000-a-year salary, that he had banked something like $100,000 in 24 months. His explanation: his wife rented out the spare room in their little Flatbush nest. Mayor Jimmy Walker is said to have observed, "Either this character is an out-and-out crook—or the rents in this town are too high!"

Neurotic lady signed up for analysis at a stipulated fee of 50 bucks per session. After three sessions, however, she suddenly dropped out of sight. The analyst tracked her down and demanded, "What's happened to you?" "It's your doing entirely," explained the patient. "You told me to steer clear of anybody I found aggravating, and you sure aggravate me!"

"It's the little things that break up marriage," observes Jimmy Starr: "little blondes, little brunettes, little redheads."

Adults Not Only Suicides

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
You may read about a suicide in your newspaper every now and then, but you probably consider it an isolated incident. The fact is that, in the age group between 15 and 44, suicide ranks fifth as the cause of death.

Three times as many American men as women take their own lives. Yet this is not strictly an adult problem. Far from it.

Breaking down the statistic I have cited above, we find that suicide also is the fifth most frequent cause of death in the 15 to 19 age bracket.

Surprised that suicide is also an adolescent problem? Well, then, here is something that may surprise you even more:

In the 10 to 14 age group, from 35 to 60 children commit suicide each year!

Suicide under the age of 10, however, is comparatively rare. Yet even children of this tender age do make threats and do make attempts at taking their lives.

These threats should not be taken too lightly. While they may simply be bids for attention or sympathy, it's good to remember that three-fourths of the adults who kill themselves had previously threatened just that.

Dr. H. Bakwin in a recent issue of the Journal of Pediatrics cites one theory about childhood suicide.

A child who is, or believes he is, unloved, may build up aggression toward his parents. This is likely to result in guilt feelings and the youngster may turn the aggression against himself.

One way to punish himself and his parents, and at the same time gain more love, is to commit suicide. It's a horrible thought, but it happens.

Bakwin warns that any child who is markedly depressed, often insomniac, unstable and displays violent temper outbursts "should be suspect and accorded special attention."

Don't ridicule suicide threats or attempts. Teasing an already miserable child may lead him to another attempt.

One method of handling a potential suicide is to hospitalize him immediately. Not only does this remove him from the situation that is troubling him, but it also shows him that his physical or emotional problems are being taken seriously.

Circleville Garden Club Holds Yule Symposium

Methods Explained By Arrangers

Christmas was the theme when the Circleville Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Nelson Bower, Route 4 Circleville.

Mrs. Harry Kern gave a demonstration of mantle arrangements. A wrought iron sleigh held an arrangement of evergreens, white painted cones, gold balls and a large red candle with evergreens and holly. Mrs. Kern suggested using a Santa or choir boys as an accessory.

Mrs. Hal Dickinson demonstrated several table arrangements. A striking arrangement in gold and black was used with gold candles in black wrought iron holders. Another centerpiece using pine, white painted cones and a red candle had Santa and reindeer as the center of interest and would appeal to the children especially. A tree fashioned of gold painted pine cones touched with pine sprigs and small beads was arranged on a pedestal cake plate.

Mrs. Roy Wood displayed unusual and beautiful homemade candles and explained the method she used in making them. She also made suggestions for using candles effectively in Christmas decorating.

Mrs. Donald Watt demonstrated a variety of methods for decorating doors. She suggested tree or bell-shaped arrangements made of evergreens using different accents. Methods for making each were explained. Another popular type of door decoration is the swag. Mrs. Watt demonstrated how to make the basic form and suggested using Christmas balls, bells, cones, painted dry materials or ribbons to carry out your idea. She suggested using one color or colors that blend. The method for making wreaths was shown and Mrs. Watt displayed several wreaths showing the varied materials that can be used.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party to be December 19.

The club voted funds for a large planting of shrubbery as a civic improvement project.

A brief memorial service was read honoring Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger, member of the Circleville Garden Club. The service was prepared by Mrs. Donald Watt and read by Mrs. Channing Vlerhome before an arrangement featuring a lighted white candle surrounded by evergreens and cones.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Bower, assisted by Mrs. Fred Mavis and Mrs. Lulla Reichelderfer.

Ashville-Harrison Seniors Will Present Comedy

The Senior Class of Ashville-Harrison High School will present the senior class play, "The Family Nobody Wanted", Tuesday, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The plot is built around the Doss family and the problems which are created by their unusual children.

In the form of a comedy, the play still has a heart-warming message for all who see it. It also bears a message of truth which should leave a memorable impression.

Seniors in the play are Bill Boyer, Shirley Caplinger, David Stuck, Fred Acord, Carolyn Newton, Roberta Hardin, Joe Frase, Bob Boyer, John Stover, Rosalie Wheeler, Alice Baum, Susan Lemon, Charles Moss, Liz Sark, Nancy Bainter, Carol Jinks, and Barbara Chaffin.

Blue Star Mothers Help at Veterans' Christmas Store

A group of Blue Star Mothers assisted Thursday at the Christmas Store at Chillicothe Veterans Hospital. According to Mrs. Ankrom hospital chairman for the local chapter the store is an annual event at the hospital.

The store is held in the huge recreation hall. Gifts donated by many different organizations are displayed on tables. The patients choose suitable gifts for members of their family and special friends — much as one would select purchases at a bazaar.

After the patient selects the gift he places the gift card with it and the address of the person to whom it goes. The selection is then gift-wrapped, sealed and addressed for mailing by a corps of workers. The patients are not charged for the gifts.

"All workers," said Mrs. Ankrom, "were invited for coffee breaks and for dinner in the cafeteria at noon."

She reported that 2300 patients had selected gifts at the Christmas store during the two days, Nov. 20 and 21 which the store is held.

Those going from Circleville Thursday were Mrs. Harry Trump, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Charles Schlegger, Mrs. Arthur Wilkins, Mrs. Bryan Russell and Mrs. John Ankrom.

For the December meeting the class will go to the Pickaway Arms for a dinner party and then go to the home of Miss Lucille Kirkwood for a Christmas party at which time the mystery sisters for the past year will be revealed. Miss Kirkwood will also have charge of the devotions and program.

Elizabeth Lange is organist, Richard C. Johnston will direct the performance.

Highlighting the vocal soloists are Louise Chambers, Soprano, who has sung with the American Opera Company in Philadelphia. She is currently soloist at St. Alban's Episcopal Church in Bexley. Contralto will be sung by Jean Kolodzik, also a soloist at St. Alban's.

Miss Jo Ann Brink, Dunkel Road, is a member of the Broad Street choir.

The public is cordially invited. A free will offering will be taken.

Broad St. Choir To Give 'Messiah'

The Broadstreet Choir of Broad St. Presbyterian Church, 760 E. Broad St. will sing a special performance of Handel's great oratorio, "Messiah", on Sunday night, Dec. 8 at 8 o'clock. For this program, the Choir of 70 will be augmented by a string octette, including members of the Capitol University String Quartette, harpsichord, trumpets and guest vocalists.

Elizabeth Lange is organist, Richard C. Johnston will direct the performance.

Highlighting the vocal soloists are Louise Chambers, Soprano, who has sung with the American Opera Company in Philadelphia. She is currently soloist at St. Alban's Episcopal Church in Bexley. Contralto will be sung by Jean Kolodzik, also a soloist at St. Alban's.

Hospital Twigs To Have Bazaar Monday

The Twigs, women's auxiliary of The Children's Hospital, will hold their 36th Annual Christmas Bazaar Monday, Nov. 25, from 10:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m., on the Mezzanine Floor of the Neil House.

Proceeds of the Bazaar go directly into the operating funds of The Children's Hospital to help meet the costs of caring for sick and injured children of Columbus and many sections of Ohio and from neighboring states as well. Last year the Bazaar produced $20,000 to help bridge the gap between expenses and income.

Members of 87 Twig Groups have been putting their talents to work throughout this year to bring to the public an assortment of gift items for all age groups. Anyone looking for the unusual in gifts will find a large assortment.

Good Samaritan Class Of Nazarene Church Meets at Anderson's

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Anderson, 209 N. Pickaway St. were hosts Tuesday evening to the Good Samaritan Class of the Nazarene Church. The teacher, Mrs. Robert Cline presided during the business session. Mr. Anderson read the Scripture and the Rev. R. Dale Freuhling offered prayer. Eleven members and several visitors were present.

The class decided to purchase a pulpit for the sanctuary which will be finished in the spring.

The December meeting will be held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Freuhling 963 S. Pickaway St.

Dawson Parks presented the program. He showed color slides of the progress being made on the church building. There were also pictures of Sunday school and church groups enjoying various activities. Two former pastors and their families were included, the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Wolford, now in Texas and the Rev. and Doyle Clay now in Columbus.

A sarsert course was served at the close of the business session and program.

Miss Hedges To Wed Mr. Call December 28

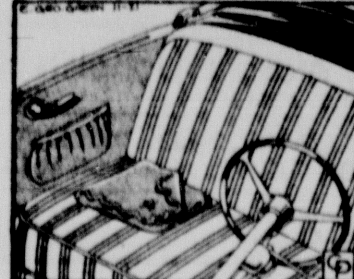

Mr. and Mrs. Roger J. Hedges, Ashville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy May Hedges to Mr. Fred G. Call, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Call, Mt. Sterling.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Ashville-Harrison High School and Ohio University where she became a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority.

She is a teacher in the Walnut Township School at Ashville.

Mr. Call is a graduate of Monroe Township High School and is engaged in farming. The wedding will be an event of December 28.

Wife Preservers

It is a good idea to keep a baby blanket in your car during cold weather to use as a foot warmer, especially if you have a convertible. It is small enough to be kept out of the way, and is easily laundered.

Miss Epler and Fiance Entertained At Will Home Sunday

Miss Amelia Epler and her fiance, Daniel Musser were guests of honor at a Sunday morning brunch given by Mrs. Clark Will and her son Charles Will, W. Mound St.

Other guests included Dr. and Mrs. Jake Nolen, Mrs. Robert Musser, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bowsher Jr., Miss Sally Eshelman, Jay Baird (Denison University) and J. I. Smith III.

Decorations were chrysanthemums used with accessories which had been brought from Japan by Mr. Musser.

Blue Star Mothers Help at Veterans' Christmas Store

A group of Blue Star Mothers assisted Thursday at the Christmas Store at Chillicothe Veterans Hospital. According to Mrs. Ankrum hospital chairman for the local chapter the store is an annual event at the hospital.

The store is held in the huge recreation hall. Gifts donated by many different organizations are displayed on tables. The patients choose suitable gifts for members of their family and special friends—much as one would select purchases at a bazaar.

After the patient selects the gift he places the gift card with it and the address of the person to whom it goes. The selection is then gift-wrapped, sealed and addressed for mailing by a corps of workers. The patients are not charged for the gifts.

"All workers", said Mrs. Ankrum, were invited for coffee breaks and for dinner in the cafeteria at noon.

She reported that 2300 patients had selected gifts at the Christmas store during the two days, Nov. 20 and 21 which the store is held.

Those going from Circleville Thursday were Mrs. Harry Trump, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Charles Schlegler, Mrs. Arthur Wilkins, Mrs. Bryan Russell and Mrs. John Ankrum.

Ashville Defeated By Darby, 58-37

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Darby capitalized on Ashville's footballitis fever and romped to a 58-37 upset victory over the defending Pickaway County champions of last year. Ashville scored the first three points and was never in the game after that.

Darby rolled to a 15-7 lead over the Broncos in the first quarter, as Dave Rathbun was the only Ashville man to score in this period. Both teams started shooting from far out, but Darby began working the ball into the bucket after the first time out, while Ashville couldn't seem to get started.

Starting about the last three minutes of the first period, Ashville put on a full-court press and maintained it throughout the game. The Broncos' Bob Hoover was caught several times remaining in the three-second circle and cost Ashville the ball at least five times during the game.

With four minutes left in the second quarter Bob Hoover left the game with four fouls and finally fouled out late in the third quarter. Darby continued to outscore its opponents, 16 to 11 in this second period, and were on top 31-18 at halftime. Gutheil was Darby's big gun

Scioto Hands Jackson Loss

Buffaloes Leading County Standings

The Scioto Buffaloes were hard put before defeating a stubborn Jackson Wildcat squad, 73-60. This was Jackson's opening game and Scioto's fifth and that was the story of the game.

Jackson had the opening-game jitters and Scioto had a very hot Roger Knapp who dropped in 26 of his total 33 points in the first half. The Wildcats were gun shy in the first two quarters but after the initial shock, they gave Scioto all it wanted.

The Buffaloes jumped to a 26 to 10 lead in the first period and were never headed. The second quarter found Scioto still outscoring Jackson as Knapp was hitting 10 of 17 shots in the first half.

The third quarter became a different game as Jackson came within one point of equalling the Scioto output. Knapp cooled off and his slack was taken up by the stellar play of Gary Clark who tallied 17 for the evening. Scioto remained on top 58 to 35 at the period's end.

THE FINAL period saw Jackson finally come to life as they dropped in 25 points in this period compared to Scioto's 17. Jackson, who had a dismal season last year, gave its rooters some encouragement when they finally realized they weren't on a football field, and began playing basketball.

The Wildcat scoring was evenly divided between Atwood, 16, Brigner, 14, Carpenter, 14, and Gallows, 10. Scioto is off to a fast start in league play as they are atop the standings with three wins and no losses.

Scioto had a clean sweep for the evening as its reserves finally won their first game 42-21. Kerschner led Scioto while Whaley and Thompson paved the way for Jackson with 8 and 2 points respectively.

Two Top Squads Seek Bookings

Two top basketball teams are seeking games with squads in this area.

The "Ohio Stars", featuring Bevo Francis and many other stars is one of the teams. The other is the Cleveland Browns barnstorming team, made up of stars from the professional football champion Cleveland Browns.

The teams may be booked by contacting Herm Downard, Box 243, Massillon, Ohio. His phone number is TE 3-5886.

Al Rosen Gets Offer From New Tribe Boss

CLEVELAND (AP)—General manager Frank Lane hopes to get third baseman Al Rosen back on the Cleveland Indians' roster by offering him today "the chance to equal the salary he got before he retired" a year ago.

Lane said he believes that Rosen, who will be 34 in March, "still has a year or two left" and "can help us."

in this period as he dropped in 10 of his 22 points with a center jump that was extremely hard to block. The only bright spot for Ashville was the fine play of front men, speedy Dick Hoover and Larry Shillingburg, who repeatedly stole the ball from Darby's onrushing guards.

ASHVILLE'S HOPES rose in the third quarter as the Broncos closed the gap to within 11 points. But Bob Hoover and Ronny Bartholomew fouled out and Darby pulled away, 44 to 30 at the period's end. Darby lost the services of Ronny Gutheil late in the quarter but Ned Musselman and Tommy Walters kept the Trojans in the game all the way.

Realizing that the game was lost Ashville became careless and Darby took advantage of free throws by dunking 20 of 34 opportunities. Dick Hoover joined his brother on the bench in this quarter by committing his fifth foul with a few minutes left in the ball game.

Darby doubled the score in the final frame 14 to 7 and chalked up a deserving first win in league play. Coach John McPherson was understandably happy over the outcome of the game and said:

"This was the tough one we worried about. If we can get by Walnut and New Holland we should be pretty well set."

Especially impressive for Darby was the play of Gutheil and Ned Musselman who scored 18 points. Walters, a sophomore, is the brightest prospect for Darby's basketball future as he handled the ball well in the last quarter when the Trojans began a stalling game, shooting just eight times.

Hoover and Rathbun led Ashville with 10 points each, Rathbun dropping in 7 of his 10 points in the first period. When the Broncos work out their tightness from football, watch out for a scrambling county league race.

To offset a one-sided varsity game the reserves had the fans on the edge of their seats, as Darby won a last minute victory 34 to 32. Tommy Liff and Allen Cox led Darby with 11 each. Jim Frank was high man for Ashville with 11. Ashville led by some 10 points at halftime but Darby battled back to score a moral victory and start their season on the winning side of the ledger.

Atlanta Team Drops Contest To W'sport

Williamsport kept right on its surprising way last night with a rousing 72-46 victory over hapless Atlanta The Red Raiders of Atlanta led the Deers at halftime 27 to 26, but Williamsport poured on the steam in the last period to run away with the game.

The first and second quarters were very slow as Williamsport led 13 to 11 at the end of the first period. The intermission score was 27 to 26 and the fans became settled for a slow evening.

The third quarter wasn't much different as Williamsport pulled ahead once again 43 to 40. Some of the fans were reaching for their coats when the final period began and in the end they missed most of the scoring.

Williamsport rang the nets for 29 points in this period, holding Atlanta to 6. The Deers therefore ran true to form being the county's highest scoring squad to date.

Myers led the Williamsport attack with 20 points followed by his even-scoring teammates, Reaser, 16, Humphrey, 13, James, 11, and Stonerock, 10. Martin paced Atlanta with 13.

Although not a big team Williamsport has that enviable quality of working together, which can make or break a team in a close game. An also-ran last year, the Deers are making Pickaway County followers look up and pay attention, as those antlers break over the basketball horizon.

New Holland Stops Walnut

Bulldogs Top Tigers, 61-42

The New Holland Bulldogs topped a vaulted Walnut five with very little trouble last, 61-42. New Holland was never behind after the first quarter as big John Linger stripped the nets for 30 points.

New Holland jumped to a 14 to 6 first period lead as Walnut was still centering the ball instead of shooting it. The Tigers fought back in the second quarter and came within two points of tying the score but New Holland held a 23-21 edge at halftime.

In the third period the Bulldogs pulled away to lead 40 to 28 at the end of the third quarter and dropped in 21 points to Walnut's 14 to ice the game in the final period.

Coach Bob Melick was especially proud of Linger who scored 17 points in the final quarter and is finally hitting his stride. New Holland employed a fast break in the all-out fourth quarter and used a man o man defense.

Bel led Walnut with 12 points followed closely by Barr with 11.

Saltcreek Unit Defeats Pickaway Five

Saltcreek evened up its basketball season last night by downing a determined Pickaway squad 56-51 in the Pickaway gymnasium. It was the Pirates' opening basketball game after a successful football season but their football championship cost them a victory on the hardwood court.

The transformation from the rough and tumble sport of football to the fast and agile game of basketball was too much for Pickaway. Saltcreek took advantage of five previous games and beat the Pirates on the foul line. Saltcreek was outscored three field goals but capitalized on Pickaway's tightness and awkwardness to 22 free throws to 11 for Pickaway.

Pickaway jumped off to a 14 to 11 lead at the end of the first quarter. But the second period spelled disaster for the Pirates as Saltcreek scored 22 points to Pickaway's 11, and took the lead 33 to 25. Of the 25 personal fouls committed by Pickaway in the game 18 were leveled at them in the first half.

Pickaway fought back in the third quarter, after a rousing lecture from Coach Charles Baxter at intermission time, and trailed Saltcreek just two points at the period's end, 41 to 39. Handicapped by the loss of Pete Smith for the opening game, Newhouse, 14, and Saltcreek remained strong in the final quarter and wrapped up its second victory in league play. Saltcreek now stands 2-2 in the league. The Redskins were led by Fred Murray and Gary Valentine with 20 points each. Municipal Court Busy Spot; 9,308 Cases Since 1954

Circleville Municipal Court has been a busy city office since its opening here Jan. 1, 1954.

Court files show that 9,308 criminal and 385 civil cases have been entered on the record since the opening about four years ago.

This long list of cases includes a variety of offenses ranging from murder on the criminal docket to eviction notices on the civil docket.

Normally the city court disposes of misdemeanor cases, with legal procedure requiring felony cases to be bound to the grand jury for disposition.

MRS. Anne Caudill, court clerk, and her assistant, Mrs. Naomi Houghton, are quick to agree that no two days are alike in the daily routine. In the same light, both add that there never is a dull moment handling the assortment of cases which reach their office.

Other than normal traffic violations one of the most frequent offenses is driving under the influence of intoxicants.

According to the record, approximately 237 intoxicated driving cases have been filed so far this year. Most of these cases have been disposed of, some have been bound to the grand jury and some are still pending.

June proved to be the busiest month this year handling drunk drivers. Total for this month was 21, an average of better than one a day.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Nearly 40,000 books fed a fire that raged through the roof of the Woodland Avenue branch of Cleveland Library Friday night and early today, causing $200,000 in damage.

Cleveland fire chief Elmer M. Cain directed more than 100 men and 22 pieces of equipment while thousands of spectators watched the six-hour battle.

Ford, one of the early makers of station wagons, started limited production in 1929 with wood body panels fabricated in a lumber-rich section of Michigan's upper peninsula. The conversion to all metal body design came in 1932.

Other changes that radically modified the station wagon were rear seats that folded down to form a continuous platform, improved hardware to open and close the rear door, improved weight distribution and handsome body lines which eliminated the box-like appearance.

With the coming of the all-steel station wagon, the auto industry stylists concentrated on enhancing its eye-appeal. Today's more popular station wagons have all the engineering advances that go into the conventional passenger car and styling the car makers say is bound to appeal to an increasing percentage of car buyers.

SPORTSMEN and campers transport small boats, outboard motors, fishing tackle, guns and tents in it. Nearly half of all station wagons double as business and family cars. Research shows that about 25 per cent of all station wagon buyers own another car.

A recent survey disclosed 45 per cent of station car owners bought their vehicles to accommodate children, luggage and dogs. Another 42 per cent said they needed the station wagon to haul equipment and products.

THE STATION WAGON, or a vehicle known as the station wagon, had its beginning some 40 years ago.

Anyone old fashioned enough to believe the old adage, "You can't have your cake and eat it too" ought to contact Herb Seymour, sales manager for Clifton Motor Sales Inc. Seymour says "Buy a Cadillac" and save $3000 in 20 years.

THE FIGURES are not his but those of a survey conducted by a national magazine and four universities.

When Seymour was asked about 1958 cars from a woman's point of view one of the first questions was: "Now what is there about a Cadillac that a woman would like?"

Seymour did not have to answer. A bystander who had been eyeing a long gleaming Cadillac on the display floor spoke up, "What," he said, "is there about a Cadillac that a woman wouldn't like?"

Seymour says that women would like the comfort of riding in a Cadillac, the ease of driving one. He thinks that a woman would also enjoy the prestige that goes with owning one. He added that it's thoroughly American to want a car in the prestige bracket.

He said women would be interested in the safety sentinel which warns the driver about over-speeding.

At Flanagan Motor Sales we talked about the sweet-wing Lancers by Dodge, its style and beauty. One interesting thing we learned is that men never make that final on-the-dotted-line decision until they have consulted with their wife about the color of the car and its upholstery.

At Edstrom Motors it was the Imperial, Le Baron by Chrysler, another car in the prestige range, that was discussed, from the woman's point of view. The salesman spoke of the quiet, exquisite colors and interiors with harmonizing shades. And from a woman's view, the salesman brought up the matter of style and safety. The fins on the Imperial are not just for style. They have a safety value. They keep the car steady in high winds and at high speed. The "Le Baron" also has a padded dash board and a padded steering wheel, which in case of accident would mean safety.

THE 1958 CARS have a lot to offer from the woman's point of view. The women are interested in the price, the design, the color, the upholstery, the mileage, the safety and the prestige offered by the new cars.

But there is one phase of the automobile industry in which they have displayed little or no interest. According to salesmen, women bypass the mechanics of the car, what's under the hood, and how it works. Salesmen say it's still the man's prerogative to poke around under the hood and pass judgement on the changes in the motor.

Traffic Deaths Increase

COLUMBUS (AP)—Traffic deaths for the first nine months of 1957 increased 4 per cent over that same period of 1956, the Department of Highway Safety reported Friday.

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's station wagon has enjoyed a rise in popularity second only to that accorded the so-called hardtop convertible.

In 1940 station wagons constituted something less than 1 per cent of the passenger car market. In 1957 they accounted for something like 12 per cent, with more than 622,000 sales. Once they were considered a luxury vehicle for the wealthy. But, with the blending of utility with passenger car styling and riding comfort, the station wagon has become an ideal family car that can double as a business vehicle.

The station wagon, of course, has a multitude of uses. Families find it ideal for carrying groceries, the "do-it-yourself" fan's lumber, furniture and luggage and for providing playing space for children on long trips.

Anyone old fashioned enough to believe the old adage, "You can't have your cake and eat it too" ought to contact Herb Seymour, sales manager for Clifton Motor Sales Inc. Seymour says "Buy a Cadillac" and save $3000 in 20 years.

THE FIGURES are not his but those of a survey conducted by a national magazine and four universities.

When Seymour was asked about 1958 cars from a woman's point of view one of the first questions was: "Now what is there about a Cadillac that a woman would like?"

Seymour did not have to answer. A bystander who had been eyeing a long gleaming Cadillac on the display floor spoke up

Municipal Court Busy Spot; 9,308 Cases Since 1954

Circleville Municipal Court has been a busy city office since its opening here Jan. 1, 1954.

Court files show that 9,308 criminal and 385 civil cases have been entered on the record since the opening about four years ago.

This long list of cases includes a variety of offenses ranging from murder on the criminal docket to eviction notices on the civil docket.

Normally the city court disposes of misdemeanor cases, with legal procedure requiring felony cases to be bound to the grand jury for disposition.

MRS. Anne Caudill, court clerk, and her assistant, Mrs. Naomi Houghton, are quick to agree that no two days are alike in the daily routine. In the same light, both add that there never is a dull moment handling the assortment of cases which reach their office.

Other than normal traffic violations one of the most frequent offenses is driving under the influence of intoxicants.

According to the record, approximately 237 intoxicated driving cases have been filed so far this year. Most of these cases have been disposed of, some have been bound to the grand jury and some are still pending.

June proved to be the busiest month this year handling drunk drivers. Total for this month was 21, an average of better than one a day.

Station Wagon Body Style Increasing in Popularity

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's station wagon has enjoyed a rise in popularity second only to that accorded the so-called hardtop convertible.

In 1940 station wagons constituted something less than 1 per cent of the passenger car market. In 1957 they accounted for something like 12 per cent, with more than 622,000 sales. Once they were considered a luxury vehicle for the wealthy. But, with the blending of utility with passenger car styling and riding comfort, the station wagon has become an ideal family car that can double as a business vehicle.

The station wagon, of course, has a multitude of uses. Families find it ideal for carrying groceries, the "do-it-yourself" fan's lumber, furniture and luggage and for providing playing space for children on long trips.

Sportsmen and campers transport small boats, outboard motors, fishing tackle, guns and tents in it. Nearly half of all station wagons double as business and family cars. Research shows that about 25 per cent of all station wagon buyers own another car.

A recent survey disclosed 45 per cent of station car owners bought their vehicles to accommodate children, luggage and dogs. Another 42 per cent said they needed the station wagon to haul equipment and products.

THE STATION WAGON, or a vehicle known as the station wagon, had its beginning some 40 years

Painesville Man's Plea Change Accepted

PAINESVILLE (AP)—Henry Butler, 35, of Painesville, pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter Friday as his trial for first degree murder entered its fifth day.

The plea was accepted by Common Pleas Judge Winfield S. Slocum, who dismissed the 12-man jury and ordered Butler returned to his cell in the Lake County Jail to await sentencing.

Niles Mayor Running For No. 2 Ohio Post

COLUMBUS (AP)—Edward P. Lenny, four-term mayor of Niles, has obtained petitions for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor in the May primary election.

He is the second Democrat to enter the race for lieutenant governor. Roy Hopple, Columbus attorney, also announced.

Independent Declared Wilmington Councilman

WILMINGTON (AP)—The flip of a coin has made Harry Nunn, an independent, a Wilmington city councilman. The coin, tossed by Election Board Chairman H. A. Metzger, gave the post to Nunn over Democrat Earl McDermott, breaking a 240-240 deadlock that existed since Wednesday after a McDermott-sponsored recount.

Detroit GI Confesses Strangling Japanese

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—U. S. Army Specialist Gregory J. Kupski of Detroit has confessed he strangled to death a 25-year-old Japanese woman.

Kupski, 23, had been questioned all week by military police after the girl's nude body, with a nylon blouse wrapped around her head, was found in a Yokohama alley Sunday morning.

The Detroitier is stationed at Kishine Base and has a Japanese wife, Utako Kupski, 21.

Ex-Farm Bureau Chief Rittenour Dies at 61

COLUMBUS (AP)—Everett F. Rittenour, 61, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation from 1949-1954, died here Friday.

Formerly of Piketon, Rittenour entered Farm Bureau activities when the organization was started in 1919. He served as president of the Pike County Farm Bureau and as director of the County before being elected to the state Farm Bureau Board in 1929.

Cincy Pinball Gadgets Limited to Nickels

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police have a green light to proceed against pinball machines that accept more than one nickel per game.

Common Pleas Judge Charles S. Bell Friday gave pinball operators until Wednesday to modify machines to conform to a five-cent limit set by city law.

Judge Bell more than a year ago granted an injunction barring police from seizing machines unless it could be proved they were gambling devices.

Women Go for New 1958 Cars, But Leave Engines to Men

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES
Herald Staff Writer

Anyone old fashioned enough to believe the old adage, "You can't have your cake and eat it too" ought to contact Herb Seymour, sales manager for Clifton Motor Sales Inc. Seymour says "Buy a Cadillac" and save $3000 in 20 years.

THE FIGURES are not his but those of a survey conducted by a national magazine and four universities.

When Seymour was asked about 1958 cars from a woman's point of view one of the first questions was: "Now what is there about a Cadillac that a woman would like?"

Seymour did not have to answer. A bystander who had been eyeing a long gleaming Cadillac on the display floor spoke up, "What," he said, "is there about a Cadillac that a woman wouldn't like?"

Seymour says that women would like the comfort of riding in a Cadillac, the ease of driving one. He thinks that a woman would also enjoy the prestige that goes with owning one. He added that it's thoroughly American to want a car in the prestige bracket.

He said women would be interested in the safety sentinel which warns the driver about overspeeding.

At Planagan Motor Sales we talked about the sweet-wing Lancers by Dodge, its style and beauty. One interesting thing we learned is that men never make that final on-the-dotted-line decision until they have consulted with their wife about the color of the car and its upholstery.

At Edstrom Motors it was the Imperial, Le Baron by Chrysler, another car in the prestige range, that was discussed, from the woman's point of view. The salesman spoke of the quiet, exquisite colors and interiors with harmonizing shades. And from a woman's viewpoint, the salesman brought up the matter of style and safety. The fins on the Imperial are not just for style. They have a safety value. They keep the car steady in high winds and at high speed. The "Le Baron" also has a padded dash board and a padded steering wheel, which in case of accident would mean safety.

THE 1958 CARS have a lot to offer from the woman's point of view. The women are interested in the price, the design, the color, the upholstery, the mileage, the safety and the prestige offered by the new cars.

But there is one phase of the automobile industry in which they have displayed little or no interest. According to salesmen, women bypass the mechanics of the car, what's under the hood, and how it works. Salesmen say it's still the man's prerogative to poke around under the hood and pass judgement on the changes in the motor.
